Our Agricultural Services

We are specialists in agriculture, estates, high net worth and the rural economy with expertise in managing large losses, complex claims and a portfolio of risk, from material damage and business interruption to liability across commercial and farming operations.

The agricultural and food sector has a diverse and far-reaching footprint that plays a vital role in the global economy.

Our people are experienced, professional, skilled and understanding. We appreciate the niche market and promote the importance of community, farming and the countryside.

We can provide a wide range of training modules for clients including both technical subject matter as well as more specialist insurance knowledge.

About Charles Taylor

Charles Taylor provides an extensive and growing range of insurance services, claims and technology solutions with specialisms in complex situations requiring distinctive technical expertise and technology.

We are a stable and profitable organisation that is highly regarded as a top tier provider of specialist services, employing the 'best in class' professionals and technical specialists.

Working with you we build strong client relationships providing claims resolutions to consistently perform with the quality and responsiveness of our people and delivery.

We are a collaborative and supportive company focused on delivering exceptional service to our clients and building our business for long-term development and expansion. In building and managing relationships with our clients, we believe shared objectives are paramount. We listen to our clients. As customer needs change, we evolve and adapt.

We are committed to ensuring that our business remains a fast-growing, inspiring organisation that helps our clients and our people to excel.

Charles Taylor Adjusting

Charles Taylor Adjusting is one of the leading international loss adjusting businesses. We focus on commercial losses and claims across all major lines including aviation, marine, natural resources, property, casualty, and special risk markets, many of which are large and complex in nature.

We believe we are the only global loss adjuster to have achieved a true market leadership position across all the major business practices with multi-disciplinary workforce including chartered loss adjusters, arbitrators, engineers, forensic accountants, insurance practitioners, lawyers, mediators, registered expert witnesses and surveyors.

With our expanding worldwide network of locations and diverse workforce we are known for our ability to provide solutions to complex high value cases. We have a positive and proactive approach to all assignments. Whatever the challenge we bring our highly qualified and technically trained people to bear on our clients' adjusting, surveying and risk consultancy needs.

Charles Taylor continues to build on the firm foundations of an extremely successful business and has injected significant new momentum and focus on excellence and delivery. Specialising in farm, estates and high net worth aligned with rural enterprises within the wider business environment.

Our core values

Our reputation as one of the leading providers of international specialist loss adjusting and claims management services is firmly established. Our reputation has been built on six core values.

High quality work

We deliver professional, high quality and compliant work, always.

Partnership with clients

We adopt a partnership mindset with our clients, always working together to identify and realise mutually beneficial opportunities.

Excellence in people

We attract, develop, retain and recognise top talent throughout the Group.

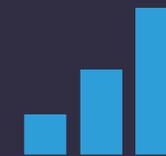

Appetite for change

We are instigators of, and receptive to, positive change.

Supportive environment

We support and collaborate with all our colleagues; our management teams are focused on creating a diverse and inclusive environment within which our people can thrive.

Group-wide entrepreneurship

We proactively create and respond to Group-wide business development opportunities with agility, enthusiasm and pace.

Technically Inspiring

We have robust and credible practices in place to deal with surges in claim numbers due to catastrophe and weather events.

Our clients can be assured that we have business continuity and disaster recovery plans in place which apply across our locations and our business systems.

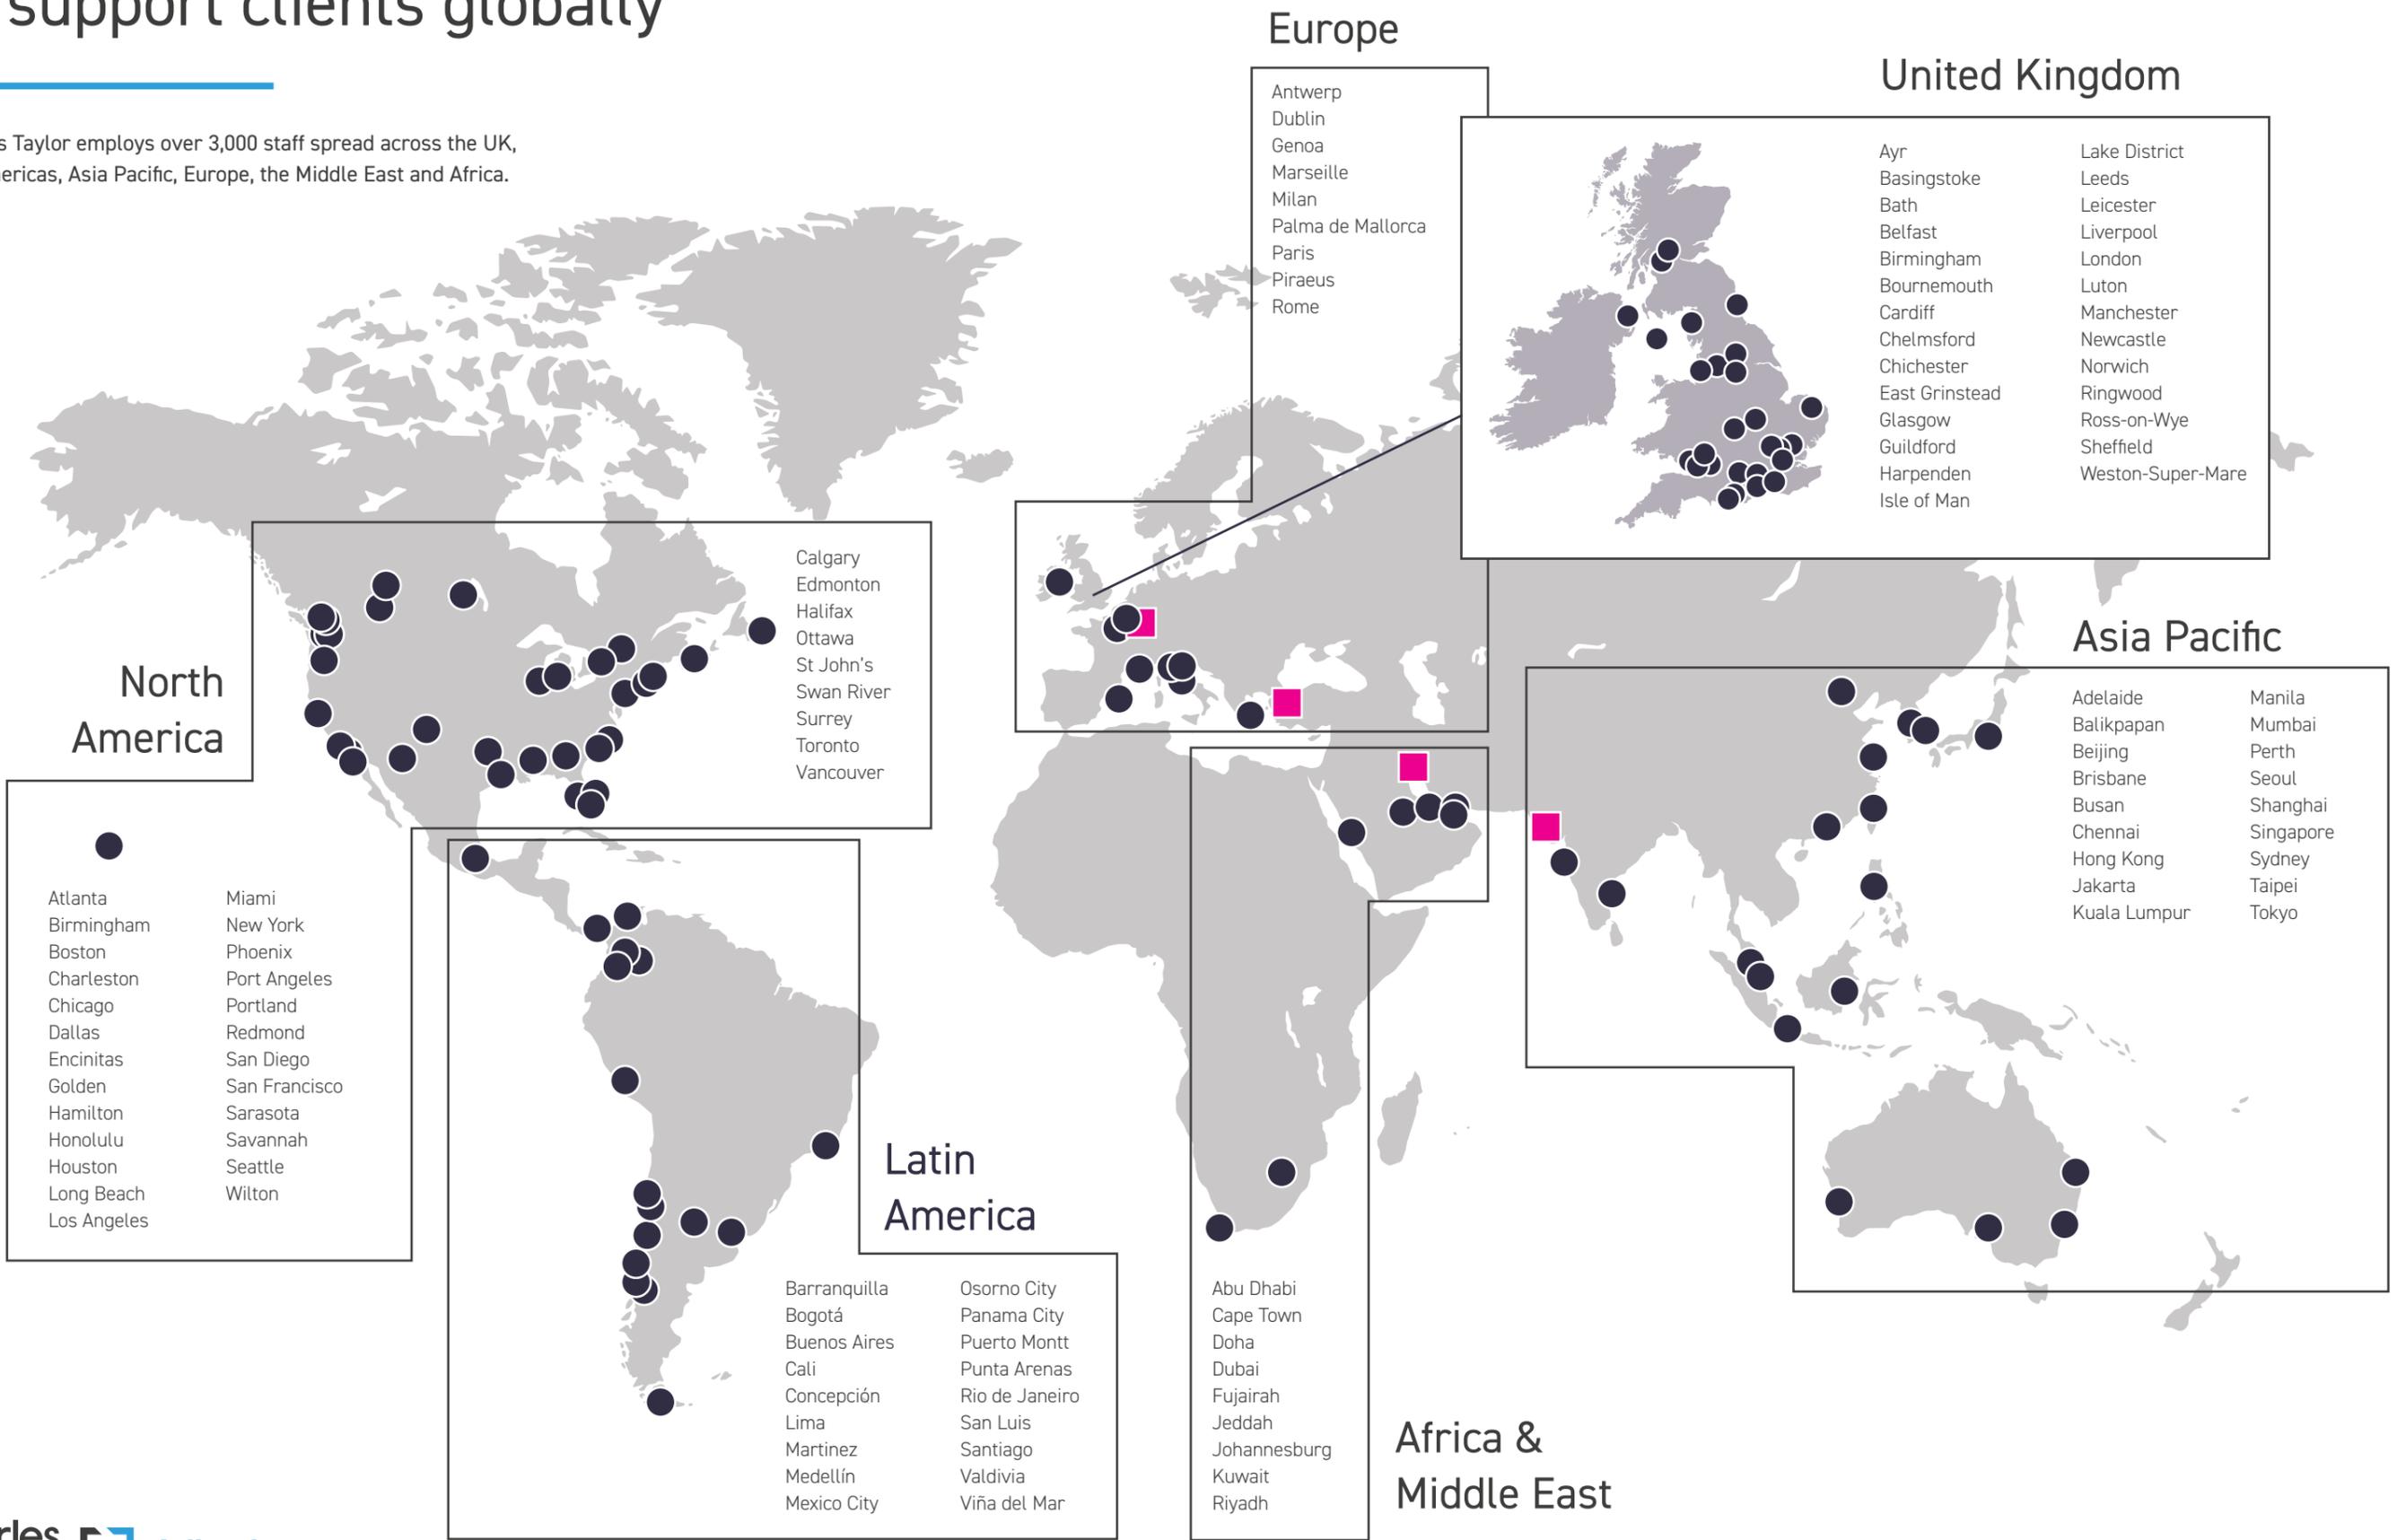

Complementing our claims service and appreciating Insurers requirements for a full understanding of the risk, we can manage and provide guidance on pre-loss and pre-inception surveys thus providing underwriters and managing agents with comprehensive technical detail of agricultural and rural risks.

Our primary objective is to ensure that our clients get real and significant benefit from utilising our services. At Charles Taylor, our wide understanding of the agricultural and food insurance sector and dedication to specialist markets is underpinned by a strong technical knowledge of farming, the food industry, rural business and associated enterprises.
