

Marine Liabilities ↗

January 2026

About us

We are experienced in the assessment and quantification of liabilities arising out of activities in the marine industry. We are able to advise on policy interpretation and application, and to provide a full claims management service where we handle claims from their inception to completion.

We are cost-effective, efficient and have successfully represented insurers recognised as market leaders in the field of marine liabilities and their assureds. We are also positioned to accept instructions from self-insured and uninsured entities.

In addition to offering services connected with marine liability matters, our team has the experience to pursue recoveries against third parties which have caused or contributed to any marine loss.

All of our adjusters have a background in law or are experienced liability claims handlers, which allows us to identify and effectively respond to issues that may arise during the lifecycle of a marine liability claim, or recovery action.

Charles Taylor has the experience and facilities to provide a number of additional services, including marine surveying, causation investigation and medical repatriation. We operate in 30 countries worldwide.
